2023 SCHEDULE OF PURCHASE PERIODS & DUE DATES

Alcohol and Tobacco Commission
Regulatory and Research Section
410-260-7314

NOTICE TO RETAILERS

If wine and/or distilled spirits have been delivered to a retail licensee by a wholesaler or manufacturer on or before the PURCHASE DATE indicated in Column I, and payment is not received by the wholesaler on or before the corresponding DUE DATE listed in Column II, then the retailer is considered by state regulation to be overdue. Retailers can avoid most problems associated with late mail deliveries by mailing remittances at least five (5) days before the specified DUE DATES.

Regulation 03.02.01.04 requires Maryland wholesalers and manufacturers who sell wine and distilled spirits to retailers to (1) report the retailer to the Regulatory and Licensing Section for late payment (even if payment was received after the due date) and (2) simultaneously notify the retailer that a report has been submitted to the Regulatory and Licensing Section. Reports and notifications must be made for all late payments. The Regulatory and Licensing Section will determine whether or not the retailer is placed on the credit control list.

POSITIVE IMPACT

Living on a better planet is the objective of newcomer brand Earthgrown Wine. Its inaugural lineup of varietals—Chardonnay, Cabernet Sauvignon, and a red blend—all highlight sustainably grown grapes from its vineyard in Monterey County, California. The eco-friendly mission is reinforced by such initiatives as embracing 100 percent recyclable labels and lightweight glass bottles, shunning wasteful plastic capsules for recyclable cork, and partnering with a paper mill that regenerates its waste into animal bedding.

SRP: $8.99 per 750-ml bottle

DECADE IN THE MAKING

Andrea Lonardi became the winemaker at Bertani 11 years ago, and now the label's first Amaro della Valpolicella Classico under his direction has finally been released. The 2012 vintage, made in the traditional messa a riposo style with partially dried grapes, uses fruit sourced from Bertani's flagship Tenuta Novare estate and spent seven years maturing in old Slavonian casks before resting in bottle for an additional three.

SRP: $130 per 750-ml bottle

ALL TOGETHER NOW

The comforting ritual of gathering at home with friends and family around the fireplace has sparked the creation of Josh Cellars Hearth Cabernet Sauvignon. Joining the core lineup of Josh Cellars wines, this full-bodied, higher proof addition (14.5% ABV) tastes of warm black plum, black cherry, and blackberry, and stands out from the brand's traditional packaging with a moody oil-painted label.

SRP: $16.99 per 750-ml bottle

TEXTBOOK GARNACHA

Back in 2000, Bodegas Borsao unveiled Tres Picos, Spain's first 100 percent Garnacha wine from the Campo de Borja DO. Aged in French oak barrels for five to six months, the 2020 vintage melds blackberry, plum, vanilla, and leather notes with a backbone of soft tannins.

SRP: $19 per 750-ml bottle

GO WEST

Paul Hobbs Winery turns its attention to the recently established West Sonoma Coast AVA with its 2021 Pinot Noir. Influenced by the region's proximity to the Pacific Ocean, the wine, part of the Paul Hobbs collection of appellation tier wines, balances bright fruit and acidity.

SRP: $80 per 750-ml bottle

MAXIMIZING CORPORATE SALES

BOLSTERED BY CONTINUED DEMAND FOR GIFTING AND VIRTUAL EVENTS, CORPORATE WINE SALES CAN BE LUCRATIVE FOR WINERIES, RETAILERS, AND BUSINESS CONCIERGES ALIKE

BY ROGER MORRIS

With big budgets and bulk orders, corporations and other businesses have long been lucrative wine sales targets. But over the last three years, amid the shift to remote and hybrid work, corporate wine sales have flourished—even as they’ve largely gone unnoticed and untracked statistically.

This B2B phenomenon is serviced by three distinct sectors of the wine trade: individual wineries, online and brick-and-mortar wine retailers, and business concierge services. The three have jointly cultivated a community of major corporations annually purchasing millions of dollars of wine and services for planning, staging, and conducting virtual, live, and hybrid tasting events at what appears to be an unprecedented level.

“Last year we sold more than 12,000 bottles of wine and 1,300 of spirits for corporate gifts and events in 76 countries,” says Alexandra Schrencengost, who founded Culture With Us, a concierge-style event-planning and fulfillment business, two years ago when she saw an unfulfilled business need.

Gary Fisch, the CEO and founder of the New Jersey-based retailer Gary’s Wine & Marketplace, says, “We find that companies love to delight their employees or clients with a well-curated wine and gourmet food gifts, particularly if the gift includes a customized aspect, such as company branding or a personalized gift note.”

Individual wineries are also quickly discovering a whole new sales opportunity beyond direct-to-consumer (DTC) and distribution to on- and off-premise trade. “Last year, corporate accounts generated about as much revenue as one of our tasting rooms,” says Vida DeLong, the VP of DTC sales for Far Niente in Napa Valley.

Surprisingly, these individual wineries, retailers, and concierges all appear to be serving the same tier of business clients—companies that constitute a who’s who of corporate America, including Amazon, Meta, Google, Twitter, Pfizer, Netflix, and Intel, to name a few. “Industries we serve include banking and financial services, telecom, construction and building materials, software, cybersecurity, and medical fields,” says Kimberly Whistler, the VP of marketing for premium Napa Valley producer Cliff Lede Vineyards.

VIRTUAL EVENTS CONTINUE TO DRIVE CORPORATE WINE SALES

While online events sprung up out of necessity in the early days of the pandemic, they’ve persisted even as businesses have reopened and in-person socialization has returned. This has created a lasting opportunity for concierge companies, many of which offer virtual events and corporate gifting. They almost never ship wines themselves, instead partnering with wineries or retailers to do that.

“We have two corporate targets—what I call human resources culture for gifts and employee retention and sales culture,” says Schrecengost. “Lots of corporations are still employing a hybrid culture, and we have had hybrid event orders for as small as 20 employees or as large as 500.

One event in Finland involved 200 people in person.”

Although Culture With Us does not rebottle or ship wines, it tracks all event shipments, including food products. Many producers provide specialty bottlings. “Some of the wineries we work with include Hall, Laurent-Perrier, Longmeadow Ranch, and McBride Sisters,” she says.

Another wine concierge company, Confetti, attracts customers who want to buy tasting and other event kits and prefer ordering online, with lots of options to choose from.

“Our platform is self-serve, so they can customize and get an instant price quote, ordering what they want in just a few clicks,” says Jessa Bock, the community and communications specialist for Confetti. Bock says Confetti started in 2014 as an in-person events company and has since grown to 50 employees servicing around 500 companies. “We have done up to 800 events in a single week during holidays,” says Bock, “and we also have a gifting collection.”

B2B is big business, says Jamie Cegelski-Gaebe, who launched Priority Experiences in 2020 as a virtual outgrowth of Priority Wine Pass, which provides winery visit deals for customers. “Our niche is we help companies use virtual experiences—wine and otherwise—to sell their products,” she says. “I’m teaching them to sell virtually—a huge business opportunity.”

Working with wineries and third-party retailers, events such as blind tastings, blending exercises, and trivia contests may use one- to four-ounce bottles of wine. Cegelski-Gaebe urges wineries to retain customer lists to promote sales and winery visits, and wineries can always provide follow-up hospitality if corporate customers visit in person. In one instance, she says, “I billed the client a million, but they made $23 million.”

MAXIMIZING THE POTENTIAL OF CORPORATE GIFTING

Although many retailers have been slow to cultivate even local corporate accounts, those with a strong online presence have become major players, especially among companies wanting wine gifts for employee incentives and as marketing tools. These buyers generally need fewer services, although they may ask retailer assistance in providing remote tutorials.

Wine.com, for example, provides an online gifting platform for clients with 25 or more recipients, and it ships individual bottles and gift baskets nationwide. A gift specialist is available, but the company warns it may take two to three days to respond.

“It was not until 2020 that we really began to consider corporate gifting its own business line and focus on its growth,” says Fisch, of Gary’s Wine & Marketplace. “We began offering virtual wine tastings for organizations, and we positioned ourselves operationally to handle corporate bulk orders of all types.”

“Our most popular categories for corporate are California Cabernet Sauvignon, Champagne, and Italian wines,” he continues. “We also see many companies choosing to include specialty, gourmet items in their gifts, and we also offer fun add-ons for corporate gifts, such as branded corkscrews and bottle stoppers.” Although not offering the same range of services as the concierges, Gary’s Wine and Marketplace conducts virtual events, as do many other online retailers.

Schrecengost says Culture With Us’ sweet spot is companies that need guidance. “A big complaint by companies in the past is that they couldn’t get advice, and they love [that] we provide that,” she says. “We give white-glove service.” For gifting, a typical Culture with Us order would be a red, white, and sparkling three-pack, all from different producers.

Whistler says Cliff Lede typically has at least 20 to 30 companies placing major wine orders annually. During 2022, she says, an average gift was about $140 for wine before shipping, often one red and one white. “But some corporate buyers have been generous this holiday,” she adds. “We had one customer gift our Cliff Lede Cabernet Sauvignon, Beckstoffer To Kalon Vineyard magnums to an entire executive team, and another sent library Cliff Lede Poetry Cabernet Sauvignon, Stags Leap District magnums to colleagues.”

“Our business is about fifty-fifty between gifting and events,” says Far Niente’s DeLong, “although events have fallen off a bit. A key segment for us, and one that is growing, is realtors. There were a lot of houses being sold in 2022!” Companies located close to wine regions, as San Francisco is to Napa Valley and Sonoma wineries, also like to have events at wineries or gift winery visits, DeLong says.

RELATIONSHIPS ARE KEY TO GROWING CORPORATE ACCOUNTS

While there are few barriers to entry for new startups, having strong relationships within the wine trade is key. “Our wine club manager has gotten to know hundreds of members and knows when to reach out to them about their annual corporate orders,” says Whistler.

The major challenge for corporate accounts, she adds, is rising shipping prices—also a problem for the DTC channel. “Corporate orders can get complicated very quickly, so it’s important to have procedures and an organized system to facilitate the process,” cautions Fisch. Controlling shipping costs and deciding how to incorporate them into billing remains a headache.

But, in spite of inflation and increased corporate layoffs, none of the companies interviewed see any major slowness in growth—at least not yet. “COVID propelled virtual experiences, and we haven’t seen a slowdown in corporate business,” says Cegelski-Gaebe.

“It helps that lots of corporations still have hybrid work models,” adds Schrecengost.

And DeLong thinks the growth in competition is an indication that the corporate market remains healthy. “2023 promises to be very busy,” she says, “and we keep testing new ways to stay ahead of the game.” ■

MARYLAND WINE IS...

GOOD FOR WINE LOVERS

Maryland's 85 wineries produce superb, handcrafted wines that compete with national brands, while highlighting all the benefits of buying local.

GOOD FOR AGRICULTURE

Maryland wineries support (and grow!) over 800 acres of grapes throughout the state. Grapes are a long-term crop, preserving open space and encouraging land preservation.

GOOD FOR TOURISM

Our industry attracts nearly 400,000 visitors annually to our wineries and wine festivals and events. These visitors spend their dollars at wineries, neighboring restaurants and accommodations.

GOOD FOR MARYLAND

Our wineries provide employment and tax revenue, supporting Maryland's rural economy by creating jobs that create tourism, preserve land and encourage agriculture. Maryland's wineries create 100 million in economic activity annually.

JOIN THE CONVERSATION

Facebook and Twitter @MDwine and be a part of the growth of great local wine industry.

DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know that only 3 out of every 100 bottles of wine sold in the state are bottles of Maryland wine. It's not a lot, but it's growing, and if you buy more local wine, you create more local jobs, grow more vineyards and help preserve our rural economy.

JOIN MARYLAND WINE MONTH

We're promoting stores and restaurants that support Maryland wine during Maryland Wine month in March.
